

PCCC English Professor
Mark Hillringhouse

on National Public Radio

Topic: The Passaic River
Program: All Things Considered
Date/Time: November 19, 4:30 pm

Tune in to:
WNYC-FM 93.9 and WNYC-AM 820

Mark Hillringhouse, Assistant Professor of English, will be a featured guest November 19 on National Public Radio's celebrated news program All Things Considered. Professor Hillringhouse will be interviewed by producer Art Silverman on the topic of the Passaic River. The program airs from 4:00 pm to 6:30 pm on WNYC-FM 93.9 and WNYC-AM 820. The segment with Professor Hillringhouse is scheduled for 4:30 pm.

Professor Hillringhouse is a published poet, essayist, and photographer whose works have been widely exhibited in area galleries. He has a particular interest in urban landscapes, especially in the historic Paterson area, and his photo-essay on the Passaic River was published last January in the American Poetry Review.

Mark Hillringhouse's photography and writing also have been published in The New York Times, The New Jersey Monthly, The Paris Review, and in many other journals, books, anthologies and magazines. He was the founding editor of the American Book Review, and a contributing editor for The New York Arts Journal.

His recent photo exhibitions include one of his "New York City Bridges" series in the Warner Gallery in Millbrook, New York, and the Main Street Gallery's "Photography Juried Competition" and a one-man show titled "Parts of a World" at the Hamilton Club Gallery. His photography was selected for the "Annual Photography and Graphic Art Exhibition" this June 2009 at the Salmagundi Club on Fifth Avenue in Manhattan.