The GED Testing Services has long provided accommodations to candidates with disabilities and is committed to compliance with the requirements of the American Disabilities Act (ADA). In an effort to make GED tests accessible to all applicants, accommodations are made for candidates with diagnosed physical, mental, sensory, or learning disability who can provide appropriate documentation from a qualified professional verifying the impairment and its affect on their ability to take the GED Test under standard conditions. A form must be secured from the GED Testing office prior to these accommodations being approved. It is the responsibility of the candidate to have this form completed and returned so it can be processed accordingly.
