Three students took top awards and 10 received Honorable Mentions in the first annual PCCC Student Art Competition held this spring. The winners were honored at a May 1 ceremony in the Broadway Gallery on the Main Campus. The event also marked the opening of the inaugural PCCC Student Art Exhibition.

“I was very impressed by the originality, scope, and quality of the work,” said art professor Alphonso Dunn, organizer of both the exhibit and the competition, as he presented the awards and encouraged the artists to “keep creating, keep pumping out this great work.”

First Place - Giancarlo Medina Self-Portrait; Ink, needles, cardboard

“I was really happy,” said Giancarlo of his award. “I did the piece last year, after I started practicing more.”

Professor Dunn called Giancarlo’s portrait “Really different and outstanding in terms of the media, scale, and boldness.”
